

Challenges the individual + constantly increases the stakes high ropes challenge

While many of our Challenge Discovery programs emphasize the team, this one is all about the challenging each individual, while inspiring them with encouragement from their team members. In the High Ropes Challenge, 12 traverses are linked together, suspended 40 feet high in the treetops, and end with a zip-line. In the High Ropes Course, each participant has the opportunity to challenge themselves at his or her own level. Although the High Ropes Course is often perceived as a highly physical endeavor, much of the hard work of this course takes place "between the ears." The High Ropes Challenge:

- Improves decision making
- Increases confidence
- Teaches an appreciation for choices
- Expands personal leadership skills
