We will continue with programming, rain or shine. Very rarely will we cancel a single day of programming. We MIGHT cancel the day of programming if the forecast suggests a high likelihood (95%-100% chance) of the following conditions: lightning storms; a combination of temperatures below 50°s, moderate to severe rain and/or moderate to severe sustained wind. However, in this event, we will find other space on campus to experience the ground-based challenges, and hope for a break in the weather in order to climb. You will be notified via email no later than 2 days prior to the program start time if the day is cancelled.

**IMPORTANT NOTE: The only reason that Challenge Discovery will cancel the day is if the enrollment does not fill. You will be notified by email no less than 2 days prior to the event.

Why do we do it? At Challenge Discovery we believe in learning by having impactful personal experiences. Adventure is our classroom! So we provide highly engaging and fun experiences, filled with personal and team challenges to help people learn about themselves and about each other. This experience day is about having a great experience for yourself - it's important to meet new people, learn about ourselves, and give ourselves time to be challenged and have fun! This will be the best way to inform you about whether we might be a great place for you to work, or a great experience for your youth class, group or team!

What is it? Attendees will be lead through an impactful experience, closely reflecting our Team Odyssey program. Groups will experience a variety of ground-based problem-solving initiatives, along with high ropes course elements and challenges.

What is an example of a high ropes challenge? The initiatives we take on might look something like this: work to get through the challenge ahead by walking on boards and cables, while being clipped above into the ropes course. Can you do it without holding onto anything with your hands? Work to get there by yourself. Now, work to get across the next element with a partner! Take a look at the sample schedule below to see how the day will be broken up.

What is the age limit? This experience day is designed for adults interested in working for Challenge Discovery, or curious about our programming in general.

What will we be doing? Take a look at the sample agenda below. This is just an approximate schedule, but we will be very active, and involved throughout our time together. Primarily, we will be going through a variety of challenges (both on the ground, and up in our ropes course), so you can see our programming in action, and whether it is something that you would like to be involved in.
